

Products we support in our Repair Depot

Thermal Support has chosen to limit the products we service to those where we feel we can equal or exceed the original manufacturer's (OEM) capability. We specialize in "non-current" products where (1) our service expertise and (2) our ability to obtain parts (no longer generally available), enable us to excel in areas where the OEM's own support capabilities are severely challenged. In addition to our Customers and Peers, PerkinElmer often recommends Thermal Support as the place to go for expert service on non-current PerkinElmer products.
